

Flower Folding Ruler

Four Seasons in the Garden

This measuring device is an absolute must for every gardener's new projects such as a garden house, a new terrace, or new beds. This new colorful yardstick not only helps to measure the length of paths and width of beds, but also at the same time provides many ideas for planting flowers. It is structured by the seasons: from spring to winter. Eighty selected photographs of flower buds provide information about the prettiest flowers of the year pictured on the standard 200-centimeter space. They no longer leave any doubt about colors and forms of camellias or geraniums.

On the backside of the ruler are the flower's corresponding Latin names. This gardening ruler closes any gap in knowledge right at the start of the gardening season. Just as its popular predecessor it too, is made of German hornbeam making it the useful instrument for any hobby botanist, student, teacher, and just anyone who loves nature.

The measuring stick that unfolds the four seasons - The gardener's ruler is a perfect gift!
